TABER, ALBERTA, THURSDAY, JULY 7, 1910

$1.50 YEARLY

THE DOMINION DAY CELEBRATION AT TABER.

A Huge Success.

The second annual celebration of Canada's Confederation Day in Taber passed without a condition to mar its success. The weather was perfect. In the forenoon the sun had off its frills and was beating down hard so that the workers who were preparing the grounds, and those engaged in the initial features of the day suffered very considerably. In the afternoon a breeze sprang up which tempered the heat materially and made it possible for those who were forced to stand to do so with reasonable comfort.

The crowd exceeded that of last year very materially. They came early and stayed late, and enjoyed every moment of the demonstration.

They were the good natured bunch too. Of course they crowded all over the ground. They had to for the heat was severe, but a word from the Marshal and back they got into line with the best of good feeling. They were thoroughly orderly in every respect, and it will be to the lasting credit of Taber and the people who honored the town on Dominion Day that there was not the slightest evidence of intoxication present on the grounds all day. To one who has had the experiences of other western celebrations this seems remarkable, but the more one comes to know this district the more it is realized that its people are above and beyond a public exhibition of inebriety. Glory be.

The day opened with a fine tribute freely to the crowd of spectators. At the last minute the sports at Grassy Lake were called off, and from that town and district we were favored with possibly one hundred people. Raymond, Magrath, Purple Springs and the other smaller towns contributed a goodly number. Altogether they were the game, classy bunch of celebrators. We were glad to see them. The town was honored by their presence and interest, and the Committee blessed them then, and has blessed them ever since.

It can be truthfully said, and the Committee in charge of the day is delighted that it is possible to say that the public advertising of the demonstration was carried out to the letter.

The events were keenly contested, they were won on their merits. Every individual and team who measured speed and skill with other contestants did the very best he or they could for as long as it was necessary. There were no fixtures, no deals. When the sporting element indulged themselves in a few side bets they got a run for their money, and while there was little

The winners in the different events were as follows:
For boys under 6—K. Russell, G. Aikens.

Girls under 6—Bessie Haycock, Florence Cook.

Boys 6 to 9—J. Black, F. Russell.

Girls 6 to 9—H. Hammer.

Boys 9 to 12—L. Bennett, George Miller.

Girls 9 to 12—M. Hilmer, L. Hall.

Boys 12 to 15—A. Duggan, A. Bodis.

Girls 12 to 15—J. Miller, W. Ayers.

The next event on the programme was the football match between Coal City and Taber. The exhibition was good, much better than the ordinary run of corner picnic football matches we used to suffer from down east, for nearly all the players here are from the Old Country where they know the game and play it on its merits. Between the two teams ment of a dark horse who had been credited with some remarkable performances in private trials. He looked every inch a winner and expressed supreme confidence. Unfortunately just after the start had been made he broke a hoppel and was forced into last place where he remained. Larry picks them up and sets them down ahead of him rather tastelessly, but unfortunately speed counts in a foot race.

At 2.15, Taber and Bow Island Baseball teams took the field. There is considerable rivalry existing between these teams, and as the Committee advertised both aggregations were out to win. They put up a persistent argument all through the game, both teams playing good snappy ball. Taber team however, connected oftener with the ball, and had there not been good fielding on the part of Bow Island the score would have been much larger in for the necessary enjoyment of the thing.

Mr. Porteous was starter and on to his job. He coaxed, threatened, suggested, and got his horses away to a fair start every time. They do say that in the slow race he favored the mule, but then one can never tell. It would be better to give him the benefit of the doubt.

In the pony races the boys got going too soon, and three of them had to run the course all over again.

The half mile and one mile races were won on their merits, C. Kinsey's mare winning handsly.

In the following results the names of the owners are given.

busted a tire and sent out a signal of distress. He was like Jeffries, he couldn't come back. Some one went out and towed him in or he would never have finished the race this side of Sulphurville.

The Peewees Baseball club won their match from Grassy Lake by a score of ten to six.

This match was run off in the early morning. The Grassy Lake boys had it on the Taber lads for size, but the Peewees were there with a superior knowledge of the game.

The event of the day, of the most successful day of sport Taber has ever seen was put on at 7.30 p.m., and it attracted the largest crowd that has ever graced the Recreation Grounds. The Taber Intermediate Lacrosse team was to demonstrate to the Lethbridge Seniors their right to be recognized and for the future to be taken into account as worthy rivals for Provincial Championship honors.

The Lethbridge boys had been anxious to retrieve some of the trailed honors of the Lethbridge Intermediates. They were to show Taber that the latter's guess was wrong. The event had been advertised as being a perfect example of Canada's National game. Both teams were of gentlemanly worthy calibre, were playing a man's game and every one knows what Canadian Lacrosse calls for. It is essentially a man's game. Weaklings don't figure in it—AND TABER IS TO BE CONGRATULATED.

They played lacrosse, but a better team won. Lethbridge showed up the weak spots in Taber team, and won by a score of 3-2. From the spectators' point of view it was all that could be desired. Our American friends who had never before seen the game played got as excited as we Canucks who had been eroded in the gut netting. They cheered, bet their money, got nervous pregaration and all the rest of it the same as we did, and after the game went home perfectly satisfied with the day and its nerve disturbing climax.

Taber is to be congratulated. The Committee is to be congratulated, and their reward is with them when they realize that their combined by the largest games ever witnessed crowd of spectators our little city has yet entertained.

Come again, good people, the best has yet to come.

betting save on the lacrosse match yet everything was entirely on the square.

The day opened officially and promptly at 10 o'clock. Mr. Leck, who had charge of the children's races, marshalled his hosts quickly and with little loss of time got his events ran off. The little people had the time of their life. They ran for all they were worth, won on their merits, cashed their cheques like legislators and spent their money enough players of the calibre of the Callies, Hibernians and Thistles could easily be secured to place a Taber team in the provincial league.

The score was 2-0 in favor of Coal City.

At 3 o'clock the foot races were run off. The course was none too good as it had to be laid around the outside of the field in order to get the distances, and so no attempt was made to lower any records. The sprinters had the winning spirit and the courage and speed to make every first prizes went to C. E. Tainter who won every event rather easily. The second money was won by T. Thacker. Considerable interest was centred in the quarter mile race owing to the entrance at the last mo-favor of Taber.

The home team had all the advantage of superior pitching, fielding and batting, what runs were scored against them being the result of errors, and won by a score of 9-5.

The horse races followed, and under the management of Hon. Peter Hammer were most successful. The Horse Races divided honors with the other competitions. The Committee in charge of this department of the work of celebrating, under the direction of Mr. Hammer, race course, and had they been fortunate enough to have had a shower of rain the racing would have been at least ten seconds faster. As it was the going was heavy, but the finishes were just as keen as need be

The slow race was full of excitement. There were four entries, all eligible so far as appearance went, and as it developed, in speed also.

The across the brood won. After a flying start in which at least twenty feet of the track ahead had been covered the mule came to the conclusion that it was all darned nonsense to into the siding and under the shelter. After a long discussion with his rider he was towed around the course and sent on down the back stretch. For a hundred yards he fairly burned up the track then he Either never quit or never start.

The best get you can get is "get busy."

The best guess is often the worst success.

You can't drive a man when leading him is more rational.

You can make just as big a mistake in religion as you can in politics.

The man with the full grouch is often the man with the empty pouch.

Don't get shocked about others' opinions until your own are copy-righted.

The only difference between a groove and a grave is the length and depth. Keep out of both as long as possible.

If the only hands a man can control are on the ends of his arms he'll not win much. Directing other hands is where the profit lies.

Some of our good Christian friends have been shocked about our lack of reverence for the Holy Writ. Reverence and common sense are often mis-allied. You can be reverent without being sensible but you can't be sensible without being reverent.

A first Minister at that. Politics in Manitoba is warming up. The Honorable Premier Roblin is eclipsing himself. His greatest platform feat previous to the present campaign was his famous characterization of his political opponents as "skunks." Yesterday at Molta he called Mr. Williams, the Liberal candidate in the constituency of Arthur, a "hyena." And he has not yet begun to get the full pressure of steam up that he will be carrying before the end of next week; when he does, his explosions will be loud and reverberating.

The Ounce of Prevention. The law makers of our Province have recognized alcoholism as a disease, or a condition of nervous disorder. They have framed statutes to save not only the subject of this disorder, but also to counteract the effect of the disease upon others relative to him, and upon the community at large. In the same way they have safeguarded the public against contagious diseases, insanitary conditions, and so on. The act of interdiction is in force to control the victim of alcoholism. The penalty for an interdicted subject is severe enough to make him consider. The penalty meted out to those who supply liquor to interdicted persons is severe enough to warrant notice. Now with this preamble of my stomach I am going to say something right out in meeting.

Taber has a full share of interdicted victims of the appetite, the in-born craving for alcohol.

For three fourths of these men it is possible to secure for their consumption all the liquor they choose to drink.

It is a matter of common talk about the streets that on at least one occasion five of these unfortunate men were drunk together on our streets not long ago.

An interdicted man told me in my office the other day that he could secure liquor from a dozen sources at any time, that on the day in question he had had three drinks, and that he was tapering off at that rate per day.

Now our police know about this, but can they be blamed for not taking action when in the eyes of the public the whole thing is a joke?

Can the hotel men be blamed? They are licensed to sell liquor, and are not supposed to know who drinks the liquor they hand over the bar.

Who then are to blame? The assassins, who, under the guise of friendship, buy liquor for the unfortunate. The snakes who with money taken from home, business, friends, wives and children, buy the damned curse, that they may suck from the same bottle. These are the leeches who are hanging on the palsied hands of the man the law has declared should protect himself and be protected.

My, but it is the good joke on the man with the appetite, and so many prominent people of the town enjoy it. Eminent respectable, with homes, wives and children that are ever so much better than the loved and loving wives and babies, fathers and mothers of the interdicted. Let the fun go on. Rustle another can of beer, snuck out another bottle of Seagram. What of the anxieties, tears and sighs of the wife and mother sitting alone, frightened, fearful of life, and desiring to live it.

On with the celebration. Never mind about business, duties, desires and ambitions. What of the law? What of the wrecked homes, and shattered lives? What of the efforts to be still a man among men? A short life and a merry one. Give us the dollar needed at home and we'll buy one more cheer and one more beer. What of the shame of it? What of the name of it? We are all good fellows to-day. No need for detectives. Taber "friends" play the open game.

This week interdicted men have been fined. That's right, kick him when he's down. Those who aided him to break the law and break anew his life and his home and family! Why they are of the citizen group, respectable? and respected. Wait. It is a long lane that has no turning. The evidence is within our hands, and there is no better way to cure a festering sore than to sink in the probe, and then let the light on it.

Without fear or dread both will be administered, AND DON'T FORGET IT.

Down among the rattlers. While I am at this dirty job there is another species of reptile it might be well to classify. The thing in men's clothes who will take, without cause, the names, characters and reputations of respectable women and girls into their mouths and smear them with the filth of infamy and suggestion. Luckily there are but few of the sort in Taber, but they are here just the same, and it will be well for the public to know just who they are. It is not suggested that any censorship be exercised on the outspoken publicity of any citizen but the names and characters of women should be protected.

The man who will talk about one woman will discuss another, and your wife and mine, your sister and mine, your mother and mine will never be sacred in the eyes of a lecherous indecent brute who is allowed the freedom of such disgusting debate.

That will be about all—just now.

From the Sanctums.

What the editors are saying.

Hit it right. Well, how close did you come to dopping the fight—Calgary Herald.

Punishment for him. The Edmonton Journal says "the Attorney General swept every poll with but one exception." It was indeed a "polar" day for the Conservative candidate.—Lethbridge Herald.

Manitoba the limit. The Albertan hopes that Alberta papers during election time do not look quite so ridiculous to the outsider as Manitoba newspapers look to the outsider at election time.—Albertan.

Birds in their little nests agree. One of the most pleasing incidents in connection with the aviation meeting at Montreal is the splendid feeling that exists between the international "birdmen."—Calgary Herald.

Naughty, but interesting. Prize fighting is not an elevating sport, but the Albertan would like to know just how many people, particularly males, are not interested in the way that the controversy is settled in Reno this afternoon.—Albertan.

"Enter thou into the joy, etc." The townspeople of Grassy Lake will be sorry to learn that they are losing Const. Coleridge, of the R.N.W.M.P., this week. He goes to Lethbridge for a well-deserved promotion. He takes with him the best wishes of the many friends whom he has made during his twenty-five months stay in Grassy Lake. He is being relieved by Const. Spence.—Grassy Lake Pilot.

An editor with a pull. O God, our Heavenly Father, who by Thy gracious providence dost cause the former and the latter rain to descend upon the Earth, that it may bring forth fruit for the use of man. We most humbly pray that it will please Thee to send forth a joyful rain upon Thine inheritance to refresh it while dry to the great comfort of us, Thy unworthy servants, and to the glory of Thy Holy Name, through the merits in Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.—Minot, N.D., Optic.

REAL ESTATE AND THE CHURCH.

The Pioneer Presbyterians of Edmonton were more worldly wise than they knew.

A lesson in values that every one should read. The circumstances stated below are exactly as given.

The story of the Presbyterian church in Edmonton is a graphic illustration of the remarkable progress in that city during the last decade. Ten years ago at the corner of Jasper Avenue, the main street of Edmonton and Third Street, in the westerly end of the town, there was dug a large hole in the ground. A month or two before this at a meeting of the church congregation there was a spirited debate between the conservative old-timers and the restless new-timers as the case might be, of spending more than ten thousand dollars for a church on the lot where the hole was to be. To the old guard it looked like burying money and they said so; twenty thousand dollars would be a fabulous sum to spend on a church when for twenty odd years the congregation had been content with a wooden shack.

After a long argument the spend-thrifts won. Men wagged their heads and said it was an economic shame. The lot had cost the ridiculous sum of $1,200 already. Since then things have happened. The congregation has long since outgrown the building. Two other Presbyterian churches have been put up. Stores and shops have been rushing in that direction. Three years ago there were stores west of the church, which is now far into the business section. The church management had a chance to sell out.

A few weeks ago they got an offer of $130,000! This was practically for the land only, as the building would probably be removed to make way for a business block. The increase in value of the land in the ten years was, therefore, something over one hundred-fold. Taking the cost of the building into consideration the offer gave the congregation a profit of nearly $110,000 or about 550 per cent on their investment. After very careful consideration by the congregation, which it may be stated comprises a majority of the shrewdest business men of the city it was decided to reject the offer.

The figure offered was approximately the valuation placed upon the property by the board of trustees of the church, but the offer was in the form of an immediate loan of $50,000 which is all the money needed immediately, and the balance of $80,000, without interest, to be paid over upon the transfer of the property two years hence. The congregation decided that by holding the property themselves for two years a very large increase of present valuation could be readily obtained, and the necessary funds for a new building on another site will therefore be borrowed.

The present property consists of 130 feet frontage in Jasper Avenue at the corner of Third Street, the recent offer being equivalent to $1,000 per foot frontage. The gentlemen who opposed the present sale expressed confidence that something in the neighbourhood of $1,500 per foot can be obtained two years hence.

Twenty-five years ago the first Presbyterians of Edmonton built the little wooden church, when nails were twenty-five cents a pound. Rev. Andrew Baird was the minister. Frank Oliver and John McDougall, Richard Secord and Andrew Fraser, Donald Ross and Matthew McQuay, Phil McIntosh and a few others were some of the congregation. But none of them dreamed that in 1910 the grain of mustard would have grown into a tree—the size of $130,000!

EDMONTON EXHIBITION.

This year on August 23, 24, 25 and 26, The Edmonton Exhibition Association, Ltd., will hold its annual Stock Show and Race Meet at which over $30,000 will be distributed in Prizes, Purses and Attractions.

The Exhibition will be held on the new grounds acquired through the City of Edmonton, consisting of 147 acres of land, about 80 of which are being devoted entirely to Exhibition purposes. On these grounds modern stock buildings have been erected, a grand stand which will accommodate 5,000 people, besides Poultry and Dog, Dairy and Horticultural Buildings, Race Stables, etc., and an up-to-date half mile standard race track, the total expenditure on grounds and buildings exceeding $175,000. Another $200,000 will be expended on Exhibition Buildings before 1912, when the Provincial Exhibition complete in all departments, will be held in Edmonton. One feature of the 1912 Exhibition will be the running of the first Edmonton Futurity for three year old Trotters and Racers for which a stake of $3,000 has been guaranteed. A similar futurity has been guaranteed to be run in 1913, guaranteed value of which is $3,500. Entries for both of these stakes close on Sept. 1st. The Edmonton Derby for three year old running horses, value $1,000 will also be run in 1914, entries for which close on Nov. 1st. About 40 entries have been already received for the Futurities for harness horses. This number will be increased to one hundred.

Besides encouraging the breeding of racing stock, The Edmonton Association have taken steps to promote breeding along the other lines by forming the Alberta Provincial Horse, Cattle, Sheep and Swine Breeders' Association having their headquarters and registered office in Edmonton.

Celebration Echoes.

Taber needs a larger Grand Stand.

The refreshment booths were well served, and did a good business.

The next move is to form a permanent athletic Association. Taber is full of athletes.

For the evening game the whole field was surrounded by rigs filled with excited spectators.

The R.N.W.M.P. officer in charge, Corporal Mason and the Marshal, said the crowd was the easiest to handle they had ever tried.

The star plays in the baseball match were a home run by Taber's first base man, and a couple of phenomenal stops by Stokes and Judson.

LOCAL AND GENERAL

The C.P.R. station has received a new coat of paint.

Miss M. T. King is spending exhibition week with Mrs. Dr. Lake in Calgary.

The Barnwell School report will be left over until next week owing to lack of space.

A number of our leading citizens went to Lethbridge last week to see the baseball game there.

Mr. L. H. Prowse of Winnipeg, is visiting his brother, J. Harper Prowse, Barrister, of Taber.

Four heavy showers, and the promise of a full half crop of No. 1 hard with the prairie soft enough for breaking.

The Annual Picnic of Knox Church Sunday School, will be held near the river Tuesday next, the 12th. All interested are cordially invited. All intending to be present are asked to meet at the church at 1 p.m. prompt.

At the Presbyterian Church, Taber, on Saturday, the 2nd inst, by the Rev. J. R. Munro, Mr. Oscar Klaus Nelson was married to Miss Minnie Larson, both of Taber. Mr. and Mrs. Nelson will reside on their farm north of Taber.

Wallace C. King, of Cochrane, brother of Miss M. T. King, assistant to Dr. Lake, is visiting the latter for a couple of days this week. Mr. King is being offered inducements to locate in Taber. He is one of the most successful auctioneers in the Calgary district.

We own and have for sale at right prices more than 30 sections of choice land lying to the southeast of Taber and south of Grassy Lake. Always in the market for good wholesale tracts from owners. Write ATLANTIC-PACIFIC LAND SYNDICATE, head office, Minneapolis, or call main field office, 2nd Floor, Alberta Block, Lethbridge.

The fight returns were received by Taber in the Bain-Nelson fight, picture to entertain the crowd between the posting of the bulletin.

There was lots of Jeffries money in sight at the start, but, as the fight progressed, the backers of the white man drew down. It is estimated that between $150 and $200 changed hands.

Read the advertisements in the Taber Free Press. The advertisements are alive, and what they have to say is worth reading.

To-morrow evening at 8 o'clock, a Sunday School Mass Meeting, under the auspices of the Alberta Sunday School Association, will be held in Knox Church. There will be addresses by Miss Helen Park, Winnipeg; Mr. J. B. Paterson, Calgary; and Mr. W. V. Sinclair, Stettler. All interested in Sunday School work should make a point of attending this meeting.

Prof. Jack Reid of the Gaasly Lake observatory was in town on Wednesday. The Prof. purchased a stonobile while here.

News, Notes and Comments

Over 25,000 people paid admission into the Calgary Exhibition on the opening day. This creates a record.

Dominion Day was fittingly observed in all parts of Canada. The total number of accidents so far recorded is less than half-a-dozen.

The Queen's Own Rifles, reunion and pageant last month in Toronto was an undoubted success, reflecting the greatest honor on Sir Henry Pollard the officer commanding.

Sir John French, Inspector-general of the British forces, has finished his work in the Calgary camp and has returned as far east as Winnipeg. He speaks well of the western forces.

Premier Sifton of the Alberta Government and attorney-General Mitchell were returned with large majorities in the constituencies of Vancouver and Medicine Hat respectively.

Waterloo, Ont., July 1.—The Dodginton Box factory was completely destroyed by fire early this morning. The building, which was entirely framed, is a complete loss. The loss will reach $25,000 or $30,000, partly covered by insurance.

Magrath had a celebration on Dominion Day that was in part, novel and without doubt appreciative. Instead of the usual number of athletic events there was singing by a large choir, and patriotic addresses by prominent gentlemen.

London, July 1.—Admiral Douglas in response to a question by wireless regarding the interview referred to by Hon. Mr. Fielding, in his speech at the Dominion Day dinner, replied from the Megantic, "Had no interview with any newspaper in Canada."

Ottawa, July 1.—It is stated tonight that the printing bureau enquiry shows that in one instance vouchers are missing for an order of supplies to the value of $15,000, which probably means that this complete order was appropriated by some officials.

Duluth, Minn., July 1.—Reports from many towns on the Iron Range tell of brush and forest fires that are destroying telegraph poles and doing other damage. Settlers' homes in many places are in danger, but none reported to be in flames.

At Rock Duck, Tenn., and other men have been sent out to help fight the flames. One good rain however, would put out all fires so far reported.

Toronto, July 2.—Rev. Dr. Alex. Sutherland, missionary secretary of the Methodist Church in Canada, who had been suffering from ill health for the last seven weeks, died yesterday afternoon in Toronto aged 77. He is survived by two sons and three daughters. Hugh, of the editorial staff of the Philadelphia North American; Frank, of the Mercantile Trust Co. of Hamilton; Mrs. H. W. McLean, of Calgary; Mrs. Stevenson, of Nashville, Tennessee; and Mrs. Sheppard, of Lynn, Mass.

J. J. Hannon, representing a corporation of about thirty million dollars, with headquarters at New York, is a guest of the Royal Alexandra, Winnipeg. His object is extensive investment in wild land, in the west, the location of which he is not prepared to give.

Mr. Hannon remarked upon the large amount of American capital invested in western Canada, which he considers a most profitable field. The corporation of which he is a member has promoted many large financial and business enterprises. Mr. Hannon is personally interested in the concern which manufactures the chewing gum known as "Chiclets."

Detroit, Mich., July 3.—A body identified by means of a watch as that of F. S. Gouldthrite, missing chief of the Canadian printing bureau's purchasing department at Ottawa, Ont., was found in the lower Detroit river, off Trenton village, late to-day. On Tuesday a straw hat, containing a note signed by Gouldthrite saying his body would be found in the river, was picked up on the stern of the steamer Eastern States as she docked here from Buffalo. Gouldthrite was known to have engaged passage on the steamer at Buffalo but little credence was placed in the suicide note. Mrs. Gouldthrite, who returned to Ottawa on Friday after a search for her husband, assured the officers that his body would be found in the river. The body is being held at Trenton pending word from Ottawa.

"That Reminds Me"

I WON'T wash my face!" said Dolly defiantly. "Naughty, naughty," reproved Grandmother. "When I was a little girl I always washed my face."

"SWEDE, and now look at it!"

"Yes, entered a post-office in the northwest and inquired: "Have any letters for me to day?"

"What name, please?"

"Ay tank de name is on de letter."

TEACHER (to the dull boy in mathematics): You should be ashamed of yourself. Why, at your age George Washington was a surveyor.

Pupil: Yes, sir, and at your age he was President of the United States.

THE ashman was raising a can of ashes above his head to pour the contents into his cart, when the bottom of the can came out. Ethel saw it and ran in and told her mother.

"He didn't say a word to me," replied the little girl; "he just walked right off by the side of his cart, talking to God."

With the Horses

The Year Book for 1909 contains 1,082 pages, and is literally crowded with statistics. The number of meetings reported is eleven hundred and sixty, and it must be remembered that the State of New York, owing to its legislation, with its large number of trotting tracks was practically off the map. But the proudest fact remains that nearly double the money was competed for than there was in sight in 1889. But the great test of all is the record, for the real reason of all horse racing is the improvement of the breed, and when this foundation idea is lost sight of and the breeding interests become divorced from the racing interests the latter will surely suffer.

During the past twenty years there has been a revolution in records and the speed limit has made gigantic steps forward. There is no record of any importance which existed twenty years ago but what has been smashed. It must be admitted that the bicycle wheel sulky and our faster tracks and better training methods have helped, but all of them combined will not account for the marvelous drop in the records. The breeder must get his fair share of credit.

Twenty years ago Maud S. was queen of the turf with a record of 2:08 1/2. Sunol, the great trotter, was the best horse at Stockton trotted in 2:08 1/2. In the estimation of horsemen the performance of the mare was never rated as the equal of the daughter of Harold.

Her solitary performance was the one and only one, as she was bought by Robert Bonner and sent to his Tarrytown stables, where she remained till her death. Her performance was too high wheel sulky. With the advent of the bicycle wheel sulky there was at once a high bid in the record.

Nancy Hanks trotted in 2:07 1/2, 2:05 1/2, and finally came to her speed limit in 2:04 1/2. She was most convincingly queen of the turf. In 1894 Aliz, by Patronage, dam Atlanta, by Attorney, which would hardly be called good breeding stock, set the mark down to 2:03 1/2. The mares, who had been queens in 1889, were the crown for two years, and then came the phenomenal of all time, Lou Dillon, who put the record down to 1:58 1/2. Great horses, like great men, are rare, and up to the present time, with the exception of the lamented Hamburg Belle, no trotter has appeared who looks liable to beat the champion record.

In 1889 the three-year-old colt Astell, 2:12, was the champion sulky. This record went down rapidly. The northern king, Nelson, in 1890 cut it down to 2:10 1/2. Then Alton in the next year in 2:09 1/2. His reign was short, for, inside of two months, Palo Alto, by Electioneer, trotted in 2:08 1/2. Nelson, in one year has three stallions followed in the sulky.

Then came the record of 2:07 1/2, set by the record down to 2:07 1/2, and the same year in California, Sunol, trotted in 2:07 1/2. There was a dispute about this record and it was rejected by the Trotting Association, though followed by the National, with the peculiar result that though he stood in the Year Book with a record of 2:11 1/2, he was sold by auction in New York and bought by the late E. H. Harriman for $41,000. Kromm only enjoyed his kingship for one year, for Directum, the black cologne from the Pacific coast, though only four years old, cut the record down to 2:07, and then 2:05 1/2. He was at once the stallion champion and also the champion of the four-year-olds, and the latter honor he holds today. Cressus was the crown in 1901, and he still wears the diadem. Will The Harvester took it from him during the coming season.

While these results are astonishing from a breeder's standpoint, they sink into insignificance when the old records are looked at. In 1889 the yearling record was 2:31 1/2, in 1909 it is 2:19 1/2, made by Maud S. trotter, by Peter the Great, dam Tillie Thompson, by Guy Wilkes. In 1889 Sunol held the two-year-old record at 2:18. He was the bright gem in the crown of Electioneer and later was bought by Robert Bonner for $41,000. Arion cut this record down to 2:10 1/2 in 1891, and there it stuck till October 9, 1909, when Native Belle, by Moko, dam Julia D. C., by General Wellington, trotted in a race at Lexington in 2:07 1/2. This is the most phenomenal drop of over ten seconds in twenty years, yet it is no more wonderful than the drop in the world's championship for trotters. With the increasing number of futurities and the possibility of a fast two-year-old winning, as much as an aged campaigner, we may expect a constantly increasing number of fast two and three-year-olds. Twenty years ago there were few inducements to develop youngsters. In 1889 the three-year-old record was held by Sunol, 2:18. In 1892 Arion got it, and in 1893, Fantasy, that wonderful daughter of Chimes, cut the mark to 2:08 1/2. In 1907, Columbus, O. Kentucky Trotter equaled it, and a month later at Lexington, Ky., General Watts, by Asworthy, dam Carpet, by Godkin, trotted in a race in 2:06 1/2.

Fast as the trotters have progressed, the pacers have kept up with them. The fastest record in the Year Book of 1889, and was made in 1884, was that of Johnston in 2:06 1/2, when he made it the betting was three to one on him. In 1892 Belle, Maud and Frank Agan put the record at 2:04. In 1904 that game campaigner Robert J., by Hartford, won in 2:01 1/2 and in 1897 that wonderful horse, Star Pointer, paced in 1:59 1/2, the first horse that ever beat the two-minute mark. "The limit, like the limit, but the famous Dan Patch finally put it at 1:55 1/2, where it is liable to stand for many years to come. Other pacers which have beaten the 2:00 mark are Audubon Boy, 1:59 1/2; Minor Hair, 1:59 1/2, and Prince Alor,

1:59 1/2. In fact, the pacers have more than kept even with the trotters.

In closing this resume and comparison of the state of sport in 1889 and its status in 1909, we have reserved the most conspicuous trophy to the last—a fact in 1889 the race record stood at 2:13 1/2. Last year Hamburg Belle, by Asworthy, dam Sally Simmons, by Simmons, cut it down to 2:01 1/2. No one can read this short contrast without realizing the enormous progress which the trotting breed and trotting sport has made in the last twenty years. It is without a parallel in any other sport. The trotter and the pacer are national in their character and the sport will grow and prosper as long as the continent endures.

THE HIGHEST DAM

At the hour of two in the morning of Sunday, January 16th, the completion of the great project of the Wyoming was announced. This is the highest dam in the world, being 2384 feet from the base of the parapet. It is located in the profound canyon of the Shoshone River, in one of the wild, rugged and most picturesque regions of northern Wyoming. The walls of the gorge are nearly perpendicular, and rise nearly 2,000 feet above the stream. At its base the dam is 70 feet across; on top it is 175 feet in length, and at the base of the dam is 108 feet wide.

The completion of this dam created an enormous reservoir, having a surface area of ten square miles and an average depth of seventy feet. The capacity of this irrigation basin in gallons is something like 148,268,215,000. The construction of this great dam was attended with difficulty from the beginning, owing partly to the inaccessible section in which it stands.

The dam is to control for all time the great floods of the Shoshone River and to provide an ample water supply for the irrigating of the valley. It covers an area of exceptionally fertile land in the valley below, a portion of which is now in the hands of the government. The contract for the Shoshone dam was let September 18th, 1905, to a Chicago firm for $15,730. This firm, however, defaulted, and the work was completed by another contractor.

GOT TO THE ROOT OF HIS TROUBLE

AND DODD'S KIDNEY PILLS CURED W. WRIGHT'S RACHALIC

He Had Suffered for Several Years and Now the Old Reliable Kidney Remedy Gave Him Quick Relief.

The Kelvington, Sask., May 16.—(Special.)—Yes, Dodd's Kidney Pills cured me of Rachallic, and I have recommended them to others who have also been cured. These are the words of William Wright, a farmer, well known here.

"I believe I inherited my Rachallic from my father. It was very severe. I also suffered from Lumbago, and in the morning I had a bitter taste in my mouth and was troubled with dizziness and my skin was dry and harsh and there was a constant itching of the scalp. No treatment I could find gave me any permanent relief till finally believing that my kidneys were the root of the trouble, I determined to try Dodd's Kidney Pills. Four boxes cured me."

"Mr. Wright was troubled sensibly. He examined his symptoms, and they showed him that Kidney Disease was the trouble. He was a sensible man, and if your symptoms point to disordered or diseased kidneys the cure is simple. Dodd's Kidney Pills will do it. They never fail."

While these results are astonishing from a breeder's standpoint, they sink into insignificance when the old records are looked at. In 1889 the yearling record was 2:31 1/2, in 1909 it is 2:19 1/2, made by Maud S. trotter, by Peter the Great, dam Tillie Thompson, by Guy Wilkes. In 1889 Sunol held the two-year-old record at 2:18. IN PAIN FOR YEARS

"FRUIT-A-TIVES" BRINGS RELIEF

"Zam-Buk" is best for chafed places, sore feet, or inflamed pinches, caused by friction. For babies' sensitive skins it is especially adapted, because it is of purely herbal composition. It can be applied to the delicate skin of your children, either for cuts, sores or skin diseases, the crude salves made up from rasped animal oils and fats, with mineral coloring and scented matter to hide their unpleasant appearances and odors. Remember that whatever gets into the pores, gets into the blood. Stick to nature, and pure natural products. Zam-Buk is nature's own healer, and is, therefore, not only superior in purity, but also in strength. Cures where other things fail. Use it, also, for piles, festering sores, varicose ulcers, cuts, burns, and every-day injuries. Every home needs it.

"Zam-Buk" is best for chafed places, sore feet, or inflamed pinches, caused by friction. For babies' sensitive skins it is especially adapted, because it is of purely herbal composition. It can be applied to the delicate skin of your children, either for cuts, sores or skin diseases, the crude salves made up from rasped animal oils and fats, with mineral coloring and scented matter to hide their unpleasant appearances and odors. Remember that whatever gets into the pores, gets into the blood. Stick to nature, and pure natural products. Zam-Buk is nature's own healer, and is, therefore, not only superior in purity, but also in strength. Cures where other things fail. Use it, also, for piles, festering sores, varicose ulcers, cuts, burns, and every-day injuries. Every home needs it.

JOHNSON RETAINS TITLE

James J. Jeffries Knocked Out in the Fifteenth Round. Johnson Displayed the Best Class All Through the Fight.

Reno, Nevada, June 4.—(Flash)—Jack Johnson retains the heavy-weight pugilistic championship of the world by defeating Jim Jeffries, ex-champion and challenger, in fifteen rounds. Johnson outclassed his opponent at every stage of the fight and after a few rounds had gone by it was easily seen who would prove the victor. Johnson drove Jeffries over the ropes in the fifteenth round, and the big ex-boiler maker's sun had set.

Jeffries at Ringside.

Ringside, 2:24.—Jeffries is taking a rub and is stripped for the ring in his dressing room.

After some more introductions of champions and Ex-Champion fighters the crowd began to yell for the big fellows to appear.

Sam Langford, the crack middle-weight, was presented and announced he would challenge Johnson for $10,000 win or lose.

Johnson there too.

Johnson entered the ring at 2:28 p.m. He was followed by his retinue of seconds, and entered from the northwest corner. His seconds are Billy Delaney, Al. Kaufman, Prof. Burns, Geo. Cotton, "Doc" Furey, Dave Mills and Harry Foley.

Johnson's time-keeper is Stanley Ketchel.

Jeffries entered the ring from the southeast at 2:31 p.m.

Johnson gave Jeffries the southeast corner. Jeffries' entry into the arena was the signal for a tremendous outburst of enthusiasm.

Jeffries' seconds are Jim Corbett, Abe Attel, Joe Chynski, Bob Armstrong, Eugene Van Court, Farmer Burns, Roger Cornell and Sam Berger. His timekeeper is Bill Gallagher.

"I don't care what corner you put me in, it's all the same to me," said Jeffries as he stepped into the ring in ordinary street clothes and chewing gum, while Abe Attel wound cotton bandages about his hands.

Round One.

The men refused to shake hands. Johnson smiled and Jeffries calmly chewed gum. After a long opening session of sparring, Johnson shot his left to the face and they clinched. He pushed Jeffries back. He swung left to jaw and as Jeffries rushed at close quarters Big Black shot his left again to the face. The men looked arms and in the break Jeffries clouted his man twice with two short arm lefts to face and crowd yelled. "Why don't you laugh?" shouted Corbett at Johnson, and the latter winked and smiled back at the former champion. The men continued in a clinch and as the going terminated a round Johnson playfully tagged Jeffries on the shoulder and went to his corner smiling. Jeffries then told his seconds to let him alone, he would fight his own battle. It was a tame round.

Round Two.

Johnson came up chatting like a nigger but Jeffries only smiled. "He wants to fight a little bit, Jim," yelled Corbett. "You bet I do, mistah Corbett," retorted the champion. As Jeff held on, Johnson clouted him with a wicked right to the jaw. As the men separated Jeff swung right to the stomach to which Johnson retaliated with two upper cuts to the jaw. The men closed together, Jeff leaning against the champion with sheer weight of his shoulders. It was a case of strength against cleverness with the Nubian having the better of it. Johnson and Corbett "killed" each other incessantly during the minute's respite between 2nd and 3rd rounds.

Round Three.

Both came up slowly. "Come in, Jim," shouted the champion. He hooked his left to the stomach with much force. He then jabbed his left twice to the face, and as they closed in breast to breast, Johnson whipped a left uppercut to the jaw and neatly blocked Jeff's onslaught.

As the men circled about ring the black kept up a constant cross-fire of conversation. The men separated and Johnson jabbed twice with left to face and whipped a short arm right to Jeff's face. A long clinch followed during which the black missed a wicked right uppercut. Jeff circled but Johnson blocked him neatly, with a vicious right swing and again patted his antagonist on the shoulder as the round ended. Johnson, on points, had a good advantage but there was not much force behind his stings.

Round Four.

Jeffries missed a left swing, Johnson rushed away leaving a stab to the face. Johnson taunted Jeff constantly. "Don't rush Jim, don't you hear what I'm telling you," shouted Johnson backing it up with a right uppercut to the jaw. Jeffries got in a right to the mouth and the blood started flowing from the colored man's lips. "First blood for Jeff," yelled the crowd. Johnson shot a hard left to the mouth and almost wrestled his man against the ropes. The "Golden Smile" had not faded from Johnson's face at this stage. Jeff forced the champion against the ropes and a half dozen short arm body punches found their mark in rapid succession. In response, Johnson shot right to jaw and the round ended. It was Jeffries' round and the best one so far.

Round Five.

Johnson, as usual, came up with a volley of words. The white paid no attention to this but rushed in close and they wrestled for a spell. At close quarters Jeffries shot two rights to the body and the champion responded with left uppercuts, cutting Jeffries' lip a bit. Johnson, a moment later drove his right to jaw and then followed it with two left uppercuts, again to the same place he jarred the white with a straight left to the mouth. Suddenly Jeff sent the black's head back a foot with a straight left to mouth and Johnson looked a bit serious as he took his round, not, however, without giving Jeffries the customary round of love taps. No serious damage.

Round Six.

I'm going to mix with him now, said Jeff to his seconds. Three lefts radiated from the champion's shoulder catching Jeffries on the face in each instance and blood seeped from Jeffries' left cheekbone. Both men fought cautiously. A ringside fan asked Johnson if he would like a drink. "Too much on hand now," quickly rejoined the champion, and he ripped in three left uppercuts to Jeff's jaw. Jeff waded in but was met with nasty left uppercuts that closed his right eye tight. This was followed by two similar punches and blood spouted from the retired champion's nose as he took his seat, when the bell ended the round. Jeffries' seconds worked heroically on his damaged optic. Johnson's round.

Round Seven.

Jeffries came with a ferocious frown and they closed in. A long sparring bee followed without a blow being struck, Johnson meanwhile carefully priming himself for an opening. Although Jeff's eye was badly bruised he never lost his sight. Johnson laughed sarcastically as Jeffries essayed a right swing at close quarters. With the men locked in an embrace Johnson jolted his man three times over the damaged eye and followed this with uppercut to the jaw. Jeffries stopped Johnson's bickering with a straight right to the jaw, Johnson countered with left and right to the sore face. The bell clanged with the honors on Johnson's side and Jeffries looked badly cut as he took his corner.

Round Eight.

Jeffries rushed in and the black drove left to the mouth and shortly after shot in two straight lefts to the face, that carried considerable force behind them. "Hello, Jimmy," shouted the black, "did you see that one?" As they closed in without damage, Jeffries shouted, "break away Johnson," but Johnson didn't break and laughed as Jeffries missed a vicious left swing. Earlier Jeffries at close range had worked in two rights to the body but failed to please the negro. Jeff pushed his man about the ring and the bell rang closing a rather featureless round.

Round Nine.

Johnson kept up a constant conversation in his corner before coming up to the scratch in this round. He hooked his left to Jeff's face with great force and continued to hurl vicious framed sentences at Corbett. He then hooked another left to the jaw that carried with it a world of power. After Jeffries had butted with his head, Johnson flung his left to the stomach and they went into a friendly clinch. Jeffries crouched low and the black drove him with a wicked left full tilt in the stomach. A moment later he sent in two left jabs to the mouth and eye but Jeff apparently paid little attention to these blows. The round ended in Johnson's favor, and with the white man's face bleeding from several places.

Round Ten.

Not much life marked the coming to the centre of the ring. Johnson shot two lefts to the head and followed this with a short arm right to the ear. A long clinch, mixed with wrestling, followed. Jeff swung his right around the body. The men confined themselves mostly to infighting and short streaks of wrestling. Johnson always on the alert to land a punch. Johnson whipped two lefts to the jaw and a right uppercut to the jaw made Jeffries yell "Oh" audibly. Johnson peppered away with his left and clearly outboxed his sturdy opponent. It was Johnson's round.

Delaney asked Richard to watch the gloves when the men were holding to see they were not broken.

Round Eleven.

A half minute wrestling without damage opened the round and Johnson smashed Jeff time and time again with left and right to jaw and the big boiler-maker fought back wildly. Johnson swung a terrific right, more of an uppercut to the jaw and followed this with a clean right uppercut to the jaw, and Jeff was almost weakened. Johnson employed left and right uppercuts again and again to the jaw, and varied this with left and right swings to the jaw and the blood spouted from Jeffries' mouth in stream. Jeffries was a real-looking fighter, and he suddenly electrified the crowd by a round-end rally, landing his right to the jaw and a hard left to the body that brought the crowd to its feet. Johnson, however, had a good advantage.

Round Twelve.

The men clinched after the black had missed a hard left to the jaw, remaining in this position half a minute. As Jeffries rushed in, Johnson met him with a straight left and a right uppercut to the jaw. With the breeze to the east the black lunged at Jeffries with the body. Jack all the time keeping up a conversation with Corbett. Johnson cleverly blocked blows meant for the body and sent home a straight right to the sore mouth, starting the blood afresh. The negro shot a straight left to the face and then sent his man's head back a foot with similar blows. Jeffries' seconds were quiet at this stage. On the other hand the champion's corner fairly hummed with life and to his bustle.

Round Thirteen.

The men fought without damage, clinched and wrestled about the centre of the ring, the black breaking up with a volley of rights and lefts to the face and mouth. He cleverly evaded the big bear's clumsy attempts to land on the body and cutting loose landed left and right in quick succession on the jaw and body. The white man weakened at this stage, a right uppercut almost lifting him from the floor. He seemed all at sea in locating the black.

Round Fourteen.

This was marked only by the ease in which the big black fighter toyed with his victim. He taunted, tapped and exposed him to the ridicule of his followers. Then by times he would snatch himself out of a clinch and poked the bruised eye of his white antagonist. In the interim he would joke with Corbett, returning him easily and good natured retort for Corbett's insult.

The round ended in the black's favor entirely.

Round Fifteen.

A clinch opened the round and Johnson rushed his man to the ropes boxing him, and the white man was counted out as he hung over the ropes, his seconds and the crowd rushing into the ring before the time-keeper could count him out.
